MY PHOTOGRAPHY STORY

In August 2012 I got my first DSLR camera as a birthday gift from my brother and my mother. And this fact definitely changed my life. I then had to learn how to use it, which took me to a fascinating path of learning through internet tutorials and practice. Lots of practice.

After a few months practicing and experimenting I quickly understood that my photography was all about architecture and how everything around me interacted with people inhabiting the urban spaces .

Soon the first rewarding experiences were coming, when I got some of my photos published in prestigious magazines and sites. This was a great push and made me start participating in contests and photography awards, being shortlisted and finalist at some of the most prestigious ones.

EXHIBITIONS

November 2014: I was selected to exhibit my “Urban Geometry” project in Madrid, as part of a photography event called Jaalproject. It was very exciting, because it was my first exhibition ever, and I learnt a lot from the experience. The exhibition took place in a hotel, and each of the 15 artists were given a hotel room to use it as exhibition space for a weekend.

July 2015: I was selected to take part in the group exhibition “Cityscape” celebrated in Blank Wall Gallery in Athens, Greece.

April 2016: One of my images was exhibited at Somerset House in London at the Sony World Photography Awards exhibition.

April 2017: My image Palm Trees Routine was exhibited at Somerset House in London at the Sony World Photography Awards exhibition. It was also included in the official book.

February 2018: Exhibited my 'Urban Geometry' project at AAST gallery in Seoul.

August 2018: Exhibited my 'Korean Schooling' series at Space Place Gallery in Nigni Tagil, Russia.
